On the planet Earth,
there was a 100 year old ghost that

THE TR

The ghost used to scare people, and it would bring him great joy. However, he realized that it was not working anymore with kids these days. People didn't seem to care about the ghost anymore. They stayed up late into the night, staring at their fancy screens and not paying attention to the ghost!

The ghost was filled with jealousy
towards these devices
and studied them for years.
He finally found something they had in common: most of them depended on electricity.
